

MISS MARY C. HYATT'S

BRIDE OF CHARLES E. FROCK

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Frock, of East Green street, announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Cummings Hyatt, and Charles Thomas Frock, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Frock, of Uniontown, formerly of Connelville, solemnized last night at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of the First Christian church in Race street. Rev. George Walker Buckner, the church pastor, officiated. There were no attendants. The bride wore her traveling suit of brown velveteen, with hat to correspond. While very quiet, the wedding is one of much interest, the bride being a popular member of Connelville's younger set. She is a graduate of the Connelville high school and for the past two years was a social worker for the Fayette County Red-Cross. The bridegroom is one of the best known young men of Uniontown and has a number of friends in Connelville. He was graduated in pharmacy from the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, and is associated in business with his father, who is owner of the Fayette Drug company in Uniontown.

The bride had selected today as the date for her wedding, but on hearing of a big reception their friends were planning in their honor following the ceremony, the young couple decided to change their plans. However they did not omit a party of their relatives and friends, who met them at the parsonage with a gayly decorated automobile in which they were driven over the Philadelphia street of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Frock left early this morning for a honeymoon trip to New York. On their return they will reside in Uniontown.

Party at Evans Home.
The C-8 club, composed of eight young men of the South Side, gave a marshmallow and waffle roast Saturday night at the home of Miss Worth Charles Evans, a member of the club, in Lincoln avenue, in honor of dinner at Kurtz home.

A. B. Kurtz entertained the stockholders of the Clearwater Coal company at an elaborate dinner last evening at 5 o'clock at his country home in Connelville township. Covers for ten were laid. The menu consisted of the many good things which help to make a real chicken dinner. Previous to the dinner the guests pitched horseshoes, with C. W. Downs and W. E. Downs carrying off honors. Mr. Kurtz is one of the stockholders of the company. W. C. Smith of Dunbar was an out of town guest.

Alma Bella Gumbo Club.
A similar number of young women, dancing and games were the amusements and a very delightful time was had.

Love-Kelly.
One of the prettiest church weddings of the season was that of Miss Winifred Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Love of East Crawford avenue, and Paul Kelly, son of Mr. Elizabeth Kelly of Carrolltown, solemnized this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the immaculate Conception church. Rev. John F. Burns, the church pastor, officiated. The bride wore her traveling suit of navy blue velvet, with white ribbon and a hat to match. An attractive blue hat, draped with a Spanish veil. She carried a bouquet of white lilies, roses, tied with white ribbon and a hat to match. Miss Nora Love, her sister's maid of honor, appeared in a suit of brown velvet, topped with a crown and a hat to match. The carried pink roses. Fred Switzer, of Carrolltown, served as Mr. Kelly's best man. Following the service at the church a beautifully appointed wedding breakfast was served in the bride's home. Covers for thirty were laid and a color scheme of pink and white was beautifully carried out. Pink and white roses, pink snapdragons and gladioli were effectively used in decorating the diningroom, while garden flowers were attractive arranged in all the other rooms. The bride was graduated from the Connelville high school, a member of the class of 1915, and was principal of the Evergreen school. She has a wide circle of friends at Connelville and Connelville. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will reside in Uniontown. Mr. Kelly is an electrician for the Westinghouse Electric manufacturing company. Out of town guests at the wedding were Miss Elizabeth Kelly, Miss Helen Kelly, Miss Grace Kelly, Miss Agnes Kelly, Miss Lena Luther, Miss Collette Luther, Mrs. Thomas Lecky, and Richard Love, all of Carrolltown; Anthony Love of Fairmont, Va.; and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Madden of Uniontown.

Guest at Wedding.
H. Dana Wright was a guest at the wedding of Miss Frances Robinson and Graham Clark, a well known couple of Clarkburg, W. Va., solemnized last evening in the Methodist Episcopal church at Clarkburg. The ceremony was followed by a large reception at the Waldo hotel. Mr. Clark was a schoolmate of Mr. Wright at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Party for Mrs. Fied.
Mrs. Frank Fied was tendered a surprise party last evening at her home in York avenue in honor of her birthday anniversary. A color scheme of pink and white was effectively carried out in decorating. A large bouquet of American beauty roses formed the attractive centerpiece. Darning and eye-linings were the amusements and following the card games prizes were awarded Miss Kathryn King and Vincent O'Brien. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served. Out of town guests were Miss Macneil, Leona and Robert Gordon, of Pittsburgh, and Maynard Breckinridge and Vincent O'Brien, Washington, Pa.

Mrs. Dick Hostess.
Mrs. Paul H. Dick was hostess at a small luncheon yesterday afternoon at her home in Wills road in honor of Miss Martha Ruby of Uniontown. Covers for six, the guests being Uniontown friends of Miss Ruby, were laid. The table was centered with marigolds. Miss Ruby left today for New York, from which city she will sail next week for Paris.

I. H. N. Class to Meet.
The regular meeting of the I. H. N. class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held tonight at the home of Miss Violet Ream in South Connelville. The members are asked to leave on the 7:30 o'clock street car.

Skiles-Bennette.
Mrs. J. M. Skiles of Uniontown announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Skiles, to Clyde M. Bennette, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bennette of Ford City. The ceremony was solemnized Saturday afternoon in the Presbyterian church at Ford City. The bride was surprised, not only to the friends but the families of the young couple. The bride was graduated from the Uniontown high school and had been substituted teacher for the South Union township school. Mr. Bennette is connected with the Republic Acceptance Corporation of Pittsburgh. The bride is known in Connelville.

Guthrie Gardens Open.
More than 250 couples attended the opening of the new Guthrie gardens, Uniontown's new dancing salon, last night. The doors were thrown open at 8 o'clock and dancing began at 9 o'clock and was kept up until after midnight. The dancing floor is unusually large and the crowd last night was easily accommodated. A feature of the gardens are the attractively furnished "red" rooms and "blue" lobby. Both are well planned and provide abundance of room. Red, white and blue lights adorn the beams of stucco ceiling. In the center of the ceiling is a huge globe with small checkered glass in colors. The globe is directed against the ceiling and directed against the ceiling. The globe is directed against the ceiling and directed against the ceiling.

Take It In Time!

Do you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

Do you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

Do you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

Why not give a fair trial to this medicine?

HARRISBURG, Sept. 27.—Only two of the 35-third class cities in Pennsylvania own electric light plants according to a survey just completed by the Bureau of Municipalities of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs and made public today by Secretary of Internal Affairs James E. The latter city, with a population of 24,016, and which is one of the best-lighted cities in the state, has 60 five-light standards, 128 three-light standards, 201 eighty candle power incandescents and 201 incandescent lamps of 250 candle power while Carbondale, with a population of 18,826, has 11 lamps of 100 watts each, 243 incandescent lights of 60 candle power and 57 lamps of 800 watts each.

Thousands Die Annually Of Cancer Because Delay In Its Initial Treatment

CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant dull backache or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Do it right. Try Don's Kidney Pills. Your neighbors recommend them. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. C. A. Knight, 408 East Gibson street, Connellsville, says: "For many years I was almost crippled up with my back and couldn't find a medicine to help me. The pain in my back seemed to burn like fire and I rapidly lost strength and became weak and tired. I could barely get about the house to do my work. I had dizzy spells, severe headaches and blurred vision. Colds quickly settled in my kidneys and I was simply miserable. I found a cure for it when I read about Don's Kidney Pills and used them. Two hours made a well woman of me and I have been entirely free from kidney trouble now for a year." (Statement given March 10, 1914)

On August 9, 1919, Mrs. Knight added: "Don's Kidney Pills still give fine results whenever I feel a need for a kidney medicine. My opinion of this fine medicine will always be the same."

clients consulted them promptly on the appearance of any slight irritation of the skin." Dr. Wood continues, "Of 1,000 women who die of cancer of the breast, the majority could be cured if seen and operated upon by a competent surgeon within a few weeks after the first appearance of the lump in the breast; of the 1,400 men who will die from cancer of an internal organ 50 per cent could be saved if only a diagnosis could be made in time and proper treatment given." Dr. Wood goes on to say that deaths from cancer of the tongue and mouth could be greatly reduced by prompt diagnosis and treatment, but he holds out less hope for those afflicted with cancer of the stomach, because "diagnostic methods are inadequate and the symptoms of the disease are so obscure."

Answering the question as to why deaths have increased in New York state, he says this is primarily due to the fact that a very small proportion of those afflicted consult a physician even when they know they have a tumor. He gives as another factor the unfortunate attitude of many practitioners who feel that they must wait until all the diagnostic characteristics of cancer have made their appearance before sending a patient to the surgeon.

Dr. Wood describes the disease as "a growth of a person's own body." At first it gives no pain or symptoms and it is, therefore, difficult for the ordinary person to discover unless the growth can be felt. The scientist then points out ways in which discovery in early stages may be made by those afflicted. Stuporous symptoms easily recognized including a hard lump or swelling, evidence of pressure, internal bleeding, internal obstruction, persistent diarrhoea, growths in the mouth, growths on the skin and any of the above attended by continuous loss in weight.

Dr. Wood admits that diagnosis is not always easy for general practitioners and advises them to inform themselves as to the newer methods, including particularly the X-ray.

"Physicians must do their utmost to help, by making the earliest possible diagnosis at a time before the disease has begun to spread through the body," he warns. "It is only by such means that the mortality from cancer can be reduced."

Supreme Court Opens.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—The fall term of the Supreme court opened here today with Judge Robert Von Mosel, chief justice, presiding. A list of 15 cases have been prepared for argument, 16 of which will be called this week.

For the 3,396 people who will die from cancer during 1921," says this authoritative "approximately 400 will die from cancer of the mouth or tongue; 3,800 will die from cancer of the stomach or liver; 1,500 from cancer of the intestines; 2,400 from cancer of female organs; 200 from cancer of the skin, and 1,900 from cancer of various other organs."

"Every case of cancer of the skin could be cured if all physicians were sufficiently well informed and all patients consulted them promptly on the appearance of any slight irritation of the skin." Dr. Wood continues, "Of 1,000 women who die of cancer of the breast, the majority could be cured if seen and operated upon by a competent surgeon within a few weeks after the first appearance of the lump in the breast; of the 1,400 men who will die from cancer of an internal organ 50 per cent could be saved if only a diagnosis could be made in time and proper treatment given."

At first it gives no pain or symptoms and it is, therefore, difficult for the ordinary person to discover unless the growth can be felt. The scientist then points out ways in which discovery in early stages may be made by those afflicted. Stuporous symptoms easily recognized including a hard lump or swelling, evidence of pressure, internal bleeding, internal obstruction, persistent diarrhoea, growths in the mouth, growths on the skin and any of the above attended by continuous loss in weight.

Dr. Wood admits that diagnosis is not always easy for general practitioners and advises them to inform themselves as to the newer methods, including particularly the X-ray.

"Physicians must do their utmost to help, by making the earliest possible diagnosis at a time before the disease has begun to spread through the body," he warns. "It is only by such means that the mortality from cancer can be reduced."

Supreme Court Opens.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—The fall term of the Supreme court opened here today with Judge Robert Von Mosel, chief justice, presiding. A list of 15 cases have been prepared for argument, 16 of which will be called this week.

For the 3,396 people who will die from cancer during 1921," says this authoritative "approximately 400 will die from cancer of the mouth or tongue; 3,800 will die from cancer of the stomach or liver; 1,500 from cancer of the intestines; 2,400 from cancer of female organs; 200 from cancer of the skin, and 1,900 from cancer of various other organs."

"Every case of cancer of the skin could be cured if all physicians were sufficiently well informed and all patients consulted them promptly on the appearance of any slight irritation of the skin." Dr. Wood continues, "Of 1,000 women who die of cancer of the breast, the majority could be cured if seen and operated upon by a competent surgeon within a few weeks after the first appearance of the lump in the breast; of the 1,400 men who will die from cancer of an internal organ 50 per cent could be saved if only a diagnosis could be made in time and proper treatment given."

Answering the question as to why deaths have increased in New York state, he says this is primarily due to the fact that a very small proportion of those afflicted consult a physician even when they know they have a tumor. He gives as another factor the unfortunate attitude of many practitioners who feel that they must wait until all the diagnostic characteristics of cancer have made their appearance before sending a patient to the surgeon.

High School Preparing For Johnstown Game

Coach C. H. White is pointing the Connellysburg high school football team for the game here Saturday afternoon with Johnstown High. The team will be in the best of shape for the game, as they have been practicing very hard. The game will be a very important one for both teams, as it will determine the champion of the league. The Junior Hobart club of Mount Pleasant is ready to book guides. The team has been organized and with the addition of new material, expects to have a still better team than last year's outfit. Any team to be added to the club should be sent to the club secretary, Mr. J. H. Hobart, 235 Main Street, Mount Pleasant, Pa.

The Lehigh Valley football team will like to arrange games with other teams averaging 135 pounds in weight. Games may be arranged by writing to the Lehigh Valley manager, Mr. J. H. Hobart, 235 Main Street, Mount Pleasant, Pa.

The manager would like to hear from Connellysburg, Trotter, Van derbilt, Emerson, Dawson, Monarch and Lufkin.

Football Clubs. Johnstown is not much worried over the prospect of a game here. The coach of the "Blood City" boys saw Johnstown humble the Cokers two weeks ago and with this in mind, he isn't much worried. There is an old saying, however, "the more things change, the more they stay the same," which might apply locally.

No Substitute Offered. Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it says "better price," the fact still stands that 99 out of 100 druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when the best medicine for diarrhoea is asked for, and to so honestly they know from what their customers say that it can be depended upon. A real struggle is on among high school candidates for a number of positions, especially in the backfield. May and Jones will "argue" for the fullback position. McDermott is giving Neid a race and George is making Whippley hustle. Wilhelm is also after a place behind the line. When Burkett's jukie is a little stronger he is going to make someone "bump" for a line job and then Wardley, Williams, and a dozen others are not to be overlooked.

Johnstown is "pointing" for Greensburg this year and it will be quite a setback to lose to Connellysburg.

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH THE SKIN

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant liquid into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon juice to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rose-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

The man who sells Atlantic Motor Oil

The man who sells you Atlantic Motor Oil does so with the conviction that Atlantic is the finest motor lubricant the oil industry knows how to produce.

"Medium," for example. He knows how important it is that "medium" oil should carry the assurance of remaining "medium" under operating conditions. He recommends because he knows that in it you'll get an oil that holds its body—that stands up under the attacks of heat, friction and pressure a motor oil encounters.

Atlantic Medium contains only the highest heat-resisting hydrocarbons the crude petroleum affords. All impurities and other elements having a tendency to corrode metal, pit valves and gum bearings have been removed.

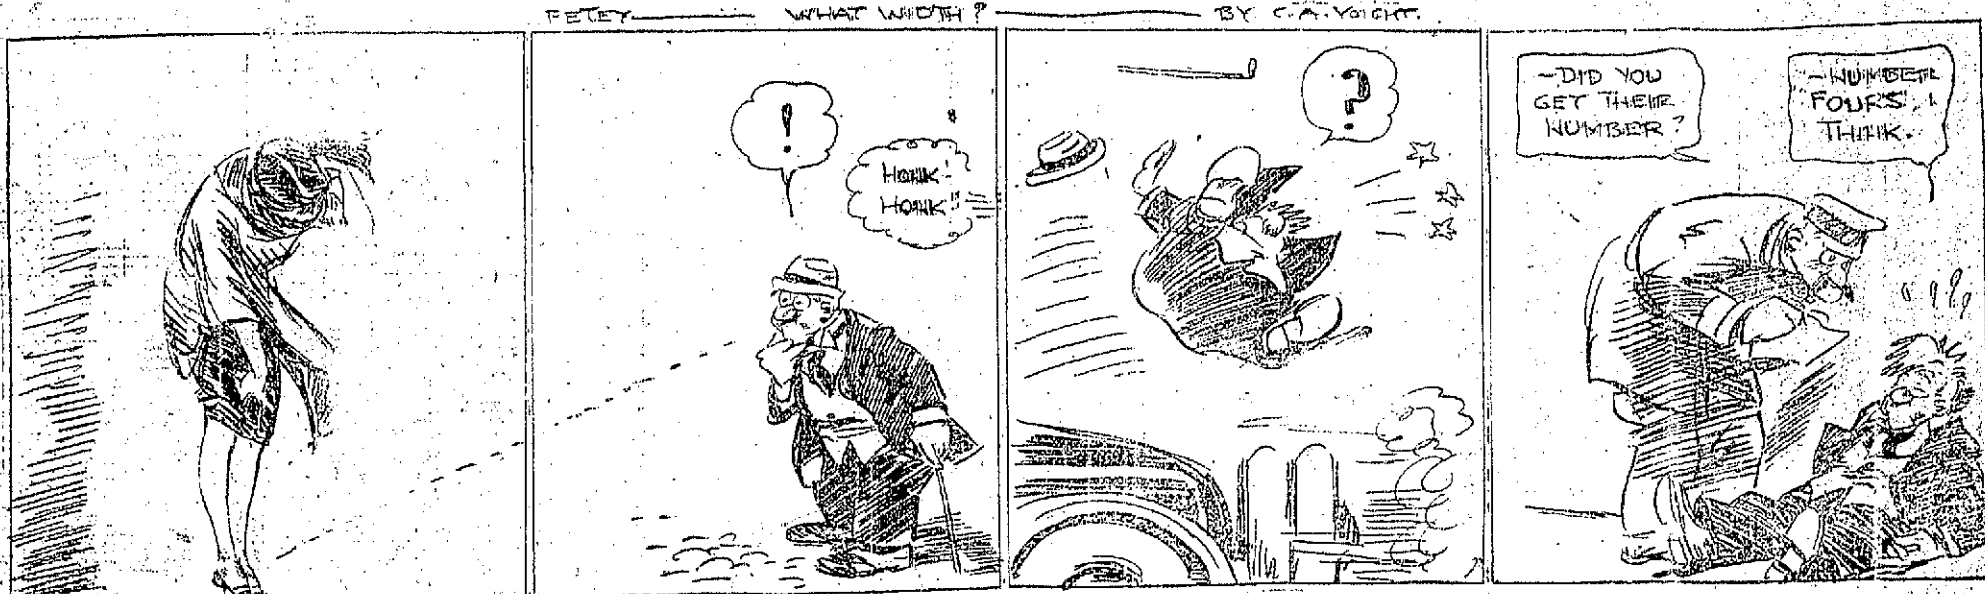

Atlantic Medium is based upon more than half a century of oil refining experience—but especially upon a twenty-five year study of the wide range of lubrication requirements the development of the automobile engine has brought with it.

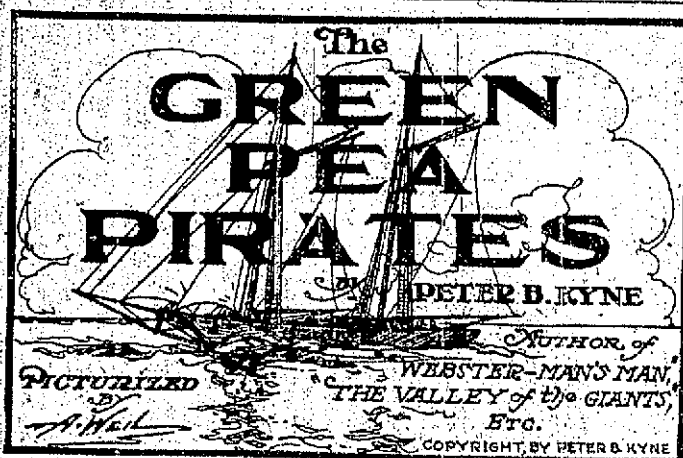

The life of your motor and the pleasure you get from uninterrupted smooth-running and full-powered motor efficiency make it worth your while to look for the Atlantic sign and getting oil that is oil.

"Just outside the Gate. Half a mile or the Cliff house."

"Telephone in for a tug. We're in nice shape, restful easy, but our rudder's gone and the after web of the crank shaft busted. Telephone in, my man, and I'll make it up to you when we get a safe anchorage. Who are you?"

"Lindstrom, of the Golden Gate Life Saving station."

"I'll not forget you, Lindstrom. My owners are Yankees, but they're sports."

"All right, I'll telephone. Or my way?"

"God speed you," murmured Mr. Gibney, and released his hold on Captain Scraggs, who instantly threw his arms around the navigating officer's body.

"I'll hold," Gibney retorted doggedly. "It's a mile for. They always hold. Quit hugging me. Your breath's bad."

Captain Scraggs, hurriedly turned back, bumped into the pilot house, but lost none of his enthusiasm. "You're a jewel," he declared. "Oh, man, what a head! Whatever made you think of the Yankee Prince?"

"Because," Mr. Gibney answered calmly, "there ain't no such ship in this land of ours' but a free republic where princes don't go. Still, it's a nice name, Scraggs, old tarpo—more particular since I thought it up in a hurry. Eh, what?"

"Halvorsen," cried Captain Scraggs. The lone deckhand emerged from a hole in the freight forward whither he had retreated to escape the vegetable barrage put over by Captain Scraggs when McGuffey left the ship.

"Aye, aye, sir," he boomed.

"All hands below to the galley!" Scraggs shouted. "While we're waiting for this here towboat, I'll brew a scuttle of grog to celebrate the discovery of real sea-farin' talent. Gib, my dear boy, I'm proud of you. No matter what happens, I'll never have no other navigatin' officer."

"Don't crow till you're out of the woods," the astute Gibney warned him.

CHAPTER III.

In the office of the Red Stack Tug Boat company, Captain Dan Hicks, master of the tug Aphrodite, Captain Jack Phiberty, master of the Bodega, and Tieren, the assistant superintendent, on-duty watch, sat around a hot little box stove engaged in that occupation so dear to the maritime heart, to wit, spinning yarns.

The telephone ring and Tieren answered. "Hicks and Phiberty hitched forward in their chairs to listen."

"Hello. Yes, Red Stack office. Steamer Yankee Prince."

"What's that?" Hicks and Phiberty asked.

"A tug boat below the Cliff house. Sure, I'll send a tug right away."

"Lindstrom."

"Send him up and faced the two shipboys. "Gentlemen," he announced, "I order a tugboat, a little salvage agency tonight. The American steam-

"The American Steamer Yankee Prince is ashore half a mile below the Cliff house."

"It's high water at twelve thirty," Jack Phiberty pleaded. "You'd better send a tugboat. The Bodega has more power than the Aphrodite."

"This was the truth and Dan Hicks knew it, but he was not to be beaten out of his share of the salvage by such a flimsy argument. "Hicks," he declared, "don't be a hog all the time. The Yankee Prince is an eight thousand-ton vessel and it's a two-tug job."

"Better send us both, Tieren, and play safe," (Hicks) are competitors. Save three tugs to the way, right?"

"What a wonderful imagination you have, Dan. Eight thousand tons? That's crazy, man. She's thirteen-hundred net register and I know it because I was in Newport News when they launched her, and I went out with her skipper on the trial trip. She's a long, narrow-gutted craft, with engines aft, like a lake steamer."

"We'll play safe," Tieren decided. "Go to it—both of you, and may the best man win. She'll belong to you, Jack, if she's thirteen hundred net and you get your line aboard first. It's as big as Dan says she is, you'll be equal partners."

But he was talking to himself. Down the docks Hicks and Phiberty were racing for the respective command, each shouting to his eight watchman to pipe all hands on deck. Fortunately, a goodly head of steam was up in each tug's boiler; because of the fog and the inability to collisions, and consequent hasty summons, one engineer on each tug was on duty. Out through the Gate they nosed their way, leaving the lead continuously, made a wide detour around Mile rock, and the Seal rocks, seeing a mile to the south of the position of the Maggie, and then came cautiously up the coast, whistling continuously to acquaint the Yankee Prince with their presence in the neighborhood. In anticipation of the necessity for replying to this welcome sound, Captain Scraggs and Mr. Gibney had, for the past two hours, busied themselves getting up another head of steam in the Maggie's boilers, repairing the whistle and splicing the wires of the engine room telegraph. Like the wise men they were, however, they declined to sound the Maggie's siren until the tugs were quite close. Even then, Mr. Gibney, shuddered, but needs must when the devil drives, so he pulled the whistle cord and was rewarded with a weird, mournful grunt, dying away into a gasp.

"Sounds like she has the pip," Jack Phiberty remarked to his mate.

"Must have taken on some of that dirty Asiatic water," Dan Hicks soliloquized, "and now her tubes have gone to glory."

Immediately both tugs kicked ahead under a dead slow head, guided by a series of toots as brief as Mr. Gibney could make them, and presently both tug lookouts reported breakers dead ahead.

Dan Hicks sent a man forward to heave the lead under the nose of the Aphrodite, which was edging in gingerly toward the voice. He had a searchlight, but he did not attempt to use it, knowing full well that in such a fog it would be of no avail.

Guided, therefore, by the bellowsings of Mr. Gibney, reinforced by the shrill tips of Captain Scraggs, the tug crept in closer and closer, and when it seemed that they must be within a hundred feet of the surf, Dan Hicks trained his Lyle gun in the direction of Mr. Gibney's voice and shot a heaving line into the fog.

Almost simultaneously with the report of the gun came a shriek of pain from the west, heavy knotted end of the heaving line came in over the Maggie's quarter and struck him in the mouth. In the darkness he staggered back from the stinging blow, clutched wildly at the air, slipped and rolled over among the vegetables with the precious rope clamped to his breast.

"I got it," he spluttered, "I got it, Gib."

"Safe, O," Mr. Gibney bawled. "Pay out your hawser."

They met it at the taffrail as it came up out of the breakers, not but welcome. "Pass it around the mainmast, Scraggs," Mr. Gibney entreated. "If we make fast to the towline bite, the first jerk will pull the anchor bolts up through the deck."

When the hawser had been made fast to the mainmast, the southern lunge of Mr. Gibney made this announcement of the fact to the expectant Captain Hicks. "As soon as you feel you've got a grip on her," he yelled, "just hold her steady so she won't drive further up the beach when I get my anchor up. She'll come out like a loose tooth at the top of the flood."

The Aphrodite forged slowly ahead, taking in the slack of the hawser. Twenty minutes later, after much backing and sweeting and heaving of lines, the Bodega's hawser was also put aboard the Maggie. Mr. Gibney judged it would be safe now to fasten this line to the towline bite.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

IN THE HEART OF A FOOL. The feature attraction today and tomorrow, is a First National picture, with Mary Thurman and James Kirkwood in the leading roles. "In The Heart of a Fool" is one of the most elaborate and dramatic productions of the year. The theme, conception and staging, it lays bare the heart of a man who blasphemes his God and ruthlessly violates the sanctity of a woman's love. The story of this picture is based on life and real life. It is just such a series of dramatic incidents that might occur in your life and my life—anybody's life. And it is from this point of exploitation that you are going to arouse the greatest interest from your patrons. Everybody is curious over something that might occur to them or to their neighbor. Love is also a dominant factor in this picture and it is not confined to any particular brand of the grand passion—there is parental love—pure love—unholy love and love of fellow man. To say nothing of love of drink and vice. It is also well to bear in mind that in exploiting this picture the importance of conveying to your patrons the business of it. There are big scenes galore in it such as the burning coal mine and the riot from the city, hired to break the strike, and the creation of a magnificent "Sin Palace."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"MAN TRACKERS," a Universal picture which is showing at this theatre, is a romantic chapter from the dramatic history of the Northwest Mounted Police. Those who are familiar with the traditions of the mounted police of the north will perhaps recall the incident which has been written into the plot of "Man Trackers." A young sergeant of the Mounted loved the daughter of the inspector. His rival for her hand was the son of an influential citizen of the community. The rival plotted against him with a gang of criminals and made it look as though the young officer had shot him without provocation. He was sent to prison, cast out of the service and utterly disgraced. His return to right his wrongs was one of the most dramatic events of the north country not long ago and has been repeated in this picture with a smashing climax of amazing unexpectedness.

Marvellous scenery furnishes a background of unusual splendor against which the dramatic events of the story are enacted. The cast includes Al Smith, Barney Furey, Ruth Royce, Harold Holland, Ralph McCullough and others equally popular. Edward Kelly directed the picture. Tomorrow and Thursday, "Keith of the Border" will be shown.

THE ORPHAN.

CONRAD IN QUEST OF HIS YOUTH. A Paramount picture, with Thomas Meighan in the stellar role, is the feature attraction today. In "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," Mr. Meighan plays the part of Captain Conrad, a war hero, who, although married, seems almost old. He seeks happiness in reliving the romance of his youth, but each attempt in this direction results in failure and plunges him more hopelessly into old age. There is something lacking and he goes in quest of it. He goes to Italy, the woman he once loved, the most beautiful maid in the world, and when she seeks his affection, he finds her worn and faded. He makes an appointment with her and when she comes, she finds him asleep. On his return to England, he falls in love with a girl he believes to be a stranded actress and proposes marriage. She tells him to think it over for a week and at the end of that period, he is more in love with her than ever. He calls at an elegant home to meet the woman he believes is employed there as a maid and is amazed to find her the Countess of Darlington, a wealthy widow, who once was a popular show girl and who had been playing the show girl part for a long time. At the time of their meeting, she is happily married, but she comes to him, he discovers that his quest has ended successfully, and that love is the tonic of eternal youth. Effie Percy will be seen tomorrow in "The Tombay."

A. Pronounced Success. The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Whooping Cough Remedy in the relief of bowel complaints, both for children and adults, has brought it to almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal. "I never was more surprised in my life than when I took the first dose of May's Wonderful Remedy. Marvella — wonderful name of a wonderful cloth—bids fair to be the favorite coat material of the season.

And no wonder when it blends in so well with the rich furs in vogue and is such a warm, sturdy, masterful fabric.

Models this year are plain tailored or fur trimmed in such new shades as seal, nut brown, Sorrento and such staple colors as navy and black. Gerona, Veldene, Normandy and Rollins are some of the other materials.

As the ne plus ultra in wraps we cite the case of a model in Sorrento Marvella, belted, and trimmed in luxurious wool—a very aristocratic among fashions.

Prices this year are back to earth, running from $49.75 to $225.

Every Connellsville home can have at least eight new blankets—with prices reduced from 33 1/3 to 50% in the September Sale.

BELFAST QUIET

Only Reminders of Exciting Times There Are Left Over

By Associated Press.

BELFAST, Sept. 27.—Belfast was quiet this morning, a half dozen shots being the only outward indication of the excited feelings aroused by the disturbances Sunday night in which several bombs were thrown, three persons killed and some two scores wounded.

Fears were expressed, however, that there would be action in reprisal for the bomb throwing unless the military took action.
